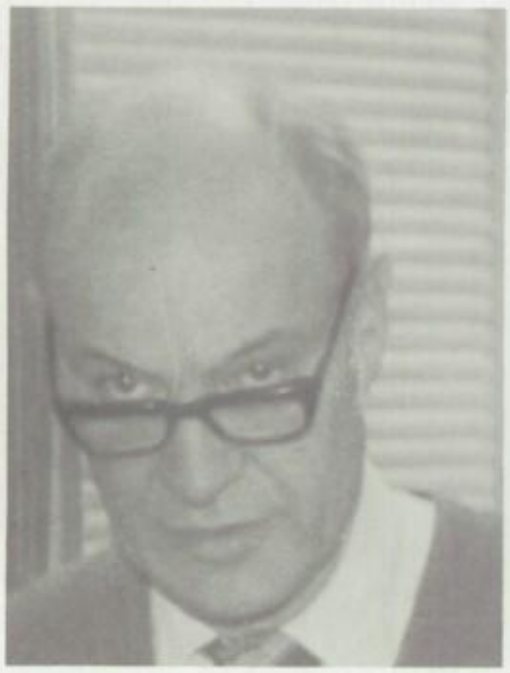
Leaders of the pack

A new administration debuted this year at SMR. Brother Foster Zibilich and Ms. Patricia Hanson stressed Christian values and high academic standards. Together, they made St. Mary's a "Shinin' Star" in the galaxy of schools. They labored constantly to expand the college prep program and improve attendance. Brother Foster's motto was, "Do it appropriately." Students never had to say, "Brother, Where Are You?" He was always roaming the halls and sitting in the classrooms so he would know "What's Goin' On."

Our dynamic duo ushered in the faculty's new schedule this year. In only four years, SMR went from an eight hour day with 40 minute classes to a six hour day with 50 minute classes and a special lunch hour. They had students "Workin' Day and Night" as they "urged and encouraged" everyone to take six classes, while serving the school and the community.



Brother Foster always looks "Two Places at the Same Time."

Occasionally, Ms. Hanson gets a chance to relax and enjoy a "Lovely Day."

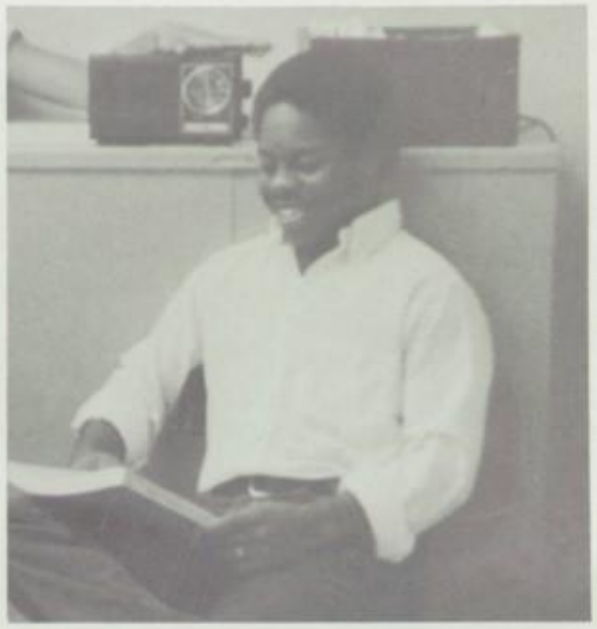
Brother is aroused by one of our piquant pep rallies.

"Let's Get Serious," Brother Foster tells these jacket-clad juniors.

"May I have your attention please, This is Ms. Hanson."

Only the beginning

Gary Bess, in a rare shot, reading a catalog.



Is Bridge reading that college catalog or listening to the radio?

The Class of '81 danced into the year as if it were the end, but our two new and enthusiastic counselors, Monica Zakrzewski and Pat Meagher, were here to tell them that it was "Only the Beginning." In September, Seniors were told exactly where they stood and all they needed to know about college. When they weren't helping Seniors, our counselors were coming to the "Emotional Rescue" of frenzied students who had problems with classes, teachers, and schedules. In Guidance, students always found knowledgeable, objective listeners. Our Guidance Dept. was #1 on any hit chart.

Seniors take a break from their "Good Times" to think about college, while juniors look toward the future with "Anticipation."

Sister Pat was an "Overnight Sensation" in the gym.

Ed Theile needs "Help!"

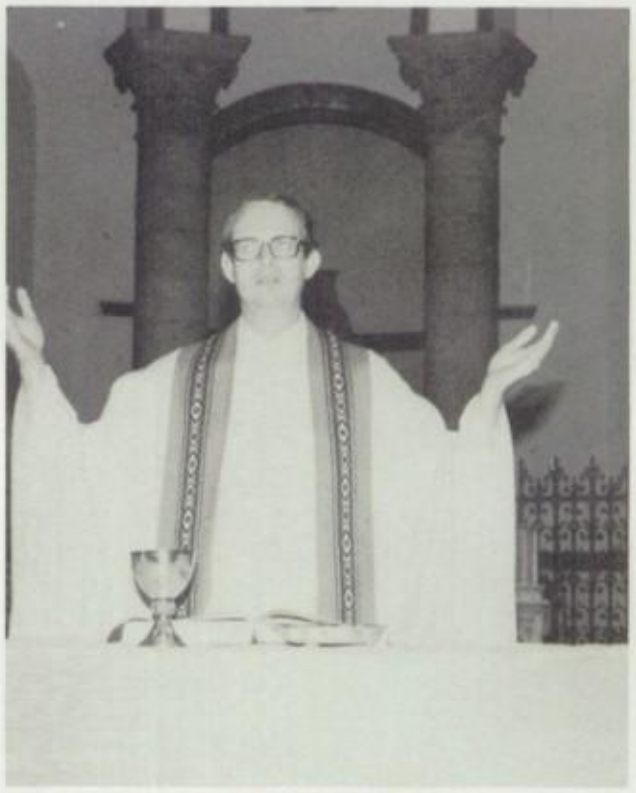
Sister Pat and Sean Talley are "Takin' Care of Business."

Priestly People

When you look back over the school year "try to remember" that many things wouldn't have happened or even been successful if it wasn't for the efforts of Fr. Edward Haggerty, Fr. Ron Williams, and the 1980-81 School Board. The reason why is simple, because "minute by minute" they work for the high standards of education which epitomizes St. Mary's of Redford. These people are consistently working for a well balanced program where students learn to "think for themselves" in a Christian atmosphere.

"A time for everything?" "Yes, I've heard that from somewhere before," thinks Fr. Ron.

"Getting in tune" with God is a humble Fr. Ed.



"I'm 'dependin on you' Lord; help me remember what comes next," prays Fr. Ed.

"That's the way God planned it!" insists Fr. Ron.

School Board helps us "go the right way"

"Somethings you never get used to", says Mr. William Flynn to an agreeable Mrs. Kerwin.

Mr. James Sall explains to Ms. Hanson as Sr. Joan and Mr. Lavich listen intently, that "you'd better get it before it gets you".

"Ease on Down the Road"

Here at St. Mary's of Redford school, the office staff had the students "Ease on Down the Road" of school life by keeping track of lates, absences, skips, and those newsy little letters that were sent home to the parents.

The SMR office album has gone gold with classics like Mrs. O'Connor and a new chart buster like Miss Yanez.

Mrs. O'Hara has gone platinum with the millions of tuition receipts, fees and bills she has written out in the last year.

"I've been workin' in the office all the livelong day," sings Mrs. O'Connor.

"Money, money, money, mon-ey," hums Mrs. O'Hara.

"Another kid askin' for an excuse and singin' the blues," chuckles Mrs. Yanez.

"The Grammy's"

This year at SMR the Grammys were given to the people behind the scenes. The winners were:
Mrs. Brautigan
Mrs. Lawson
Mrs. MacNall
Louella Campbell
John Gilmore
Gary Pecar

Senior Dwayne Scott is glad he's first in line.

Did he say 3 sandwiches, 2 salads, AND a milk?

"Those bells are music to my ears," thinks Gary Pecar.

Louella Campbell has a well deserved "Take Five".

"I scream, you scream, we all scream for Ice-Cream!"

"Do the Hustle!"

IS that Kim's smiling mother?

Eight days a week . . .

Our mothers were busy keeping us on the beat once again this year. From library duty to dance chaperones to fund raising activities, the moms directed their money making activities very well. These events ranged from auctions and craft shows to rummage sales and breakfasts. In giving us some of their heavily booked time, they showed support and concern for us. What would we do without them?

Mrs. Long can't believe what she is hearing.

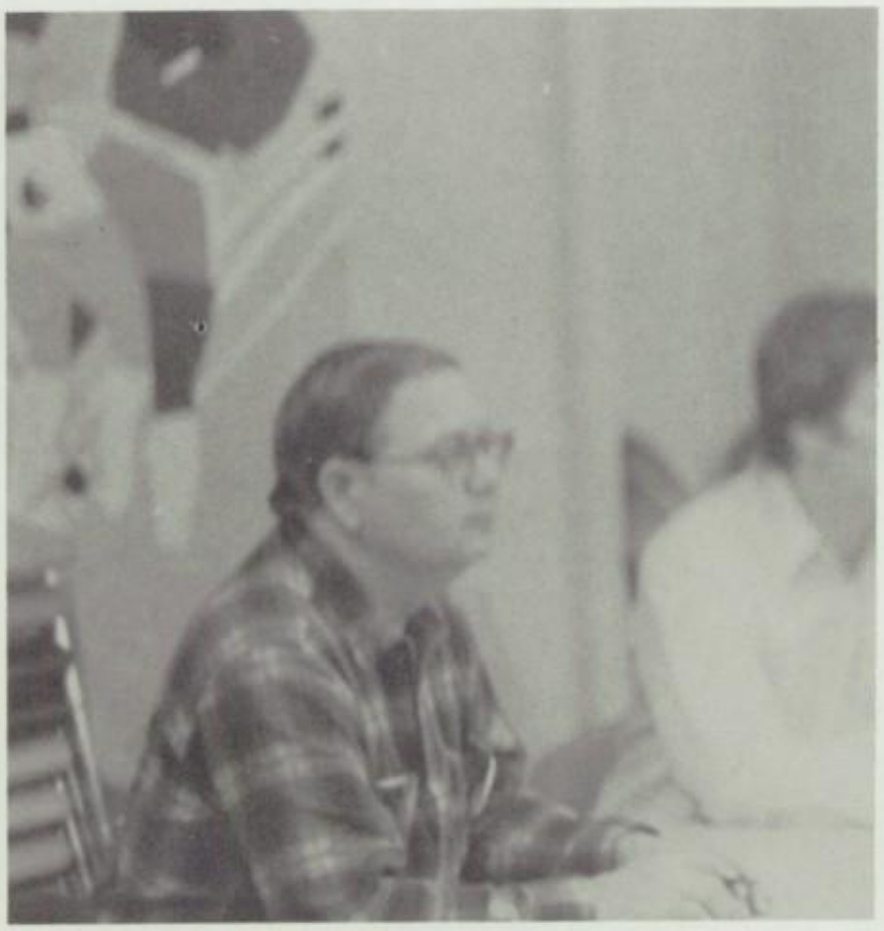
The Mother's Guild Board smiles for the "macho"(?) photographer.

You mean Mrs. Daniel is a Mom, too?

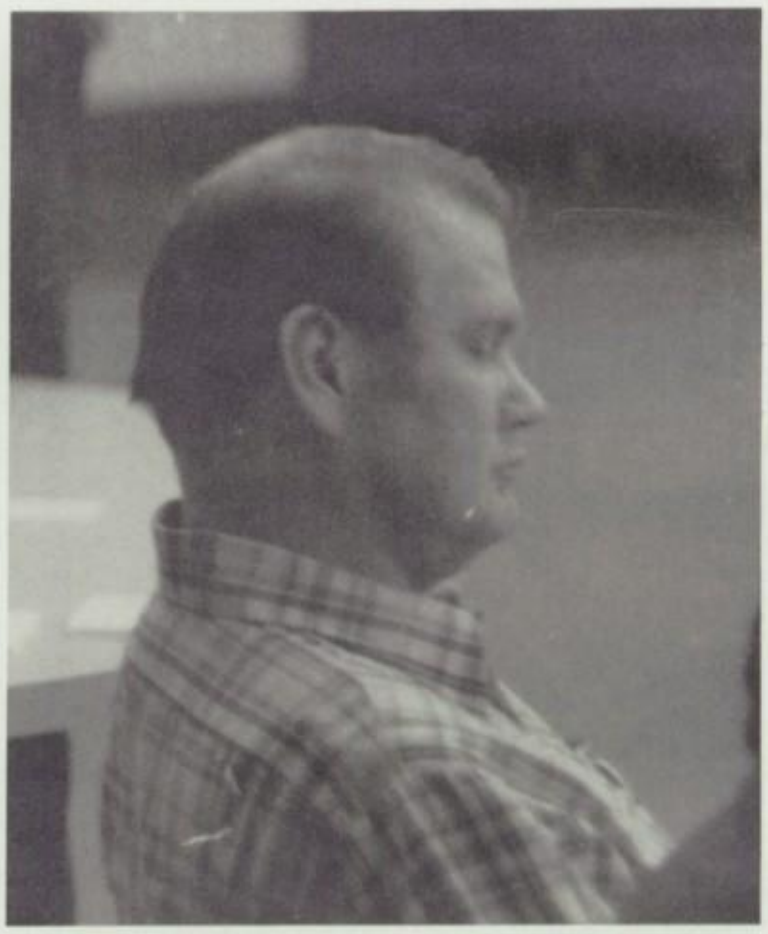
Just what we needed!!!

Mr. Corby and Mr. MacNall sit in pensive thought.

Our Dear Old Dads ... they worked hard again this year in raising money for the school and showed their support at school activities. To show their support for the athletic program, they took tickets at gates and ushered at games. To keep our programs going, they had many fun-draisers. Through their never ending concern and love for us, these dads showed us just who the real stars were. Keep it up. (and THANKS!!!)



Mr. Lemen gives his attention to the speaker.



Lou Kotula plans his next fundraising strategy.

"The Lonely One"

The St. Marys of Redford library was always open during the six periods of the day. The head librarian, Ms. Daniel, made the library convenient for each student. The SMR library let the entire student body know "What's Going On." Whenever students needed help or assistance, Mrs. Daniel would always "Take Her Time and Do It Right." However, after the bell would ring, Mrs. Daniel would "Close the Door" and the "Sounds of Silence" would begin. During the winter months a book fair was sponsored and it turned out to be an "Afternoon Delight." The profits went to the library funds. This years library was a fun yet educational place for students to spend their quiet time.

Our Mrs. Daniel, better known as "Sexy Eyes."

Tis the president of Mrs. Daniel fan club.

Mrs. Daniel, "Off To Wonderland ...."

Don't think about it Mrs. Daniel, give him a detention.

Sean Clavon enjoys studying in the library.

Freshmen (l-r) Cornell, Renita, and Sean says "It's a Lazy Afternoon . . . ."

Well Michael, are you going to the library or not?

Parlez-vous francais?

Michele Kostyshak taught le français to eighty students this year, twice last year's enrollment. Students studied French and French-speaking cultures worldwide. To supplement their textbook, they saw films in class and attended a concert at Masonic Temple featuring a French-speaking group from Québec.

Many French students joined the French Club. The main objective of this organization, led by Kim Cunningham, Darryl Cullins, Alise Alousi, and Anne Castle, was to raise money for its voyage au Québec. Members were workin' at the "Car Wash," selling baked goods, and sponsoring a luncheon to get some "Money." For a few, the Quebec trip was "Déjá Vu," but for most, the foreign langauge and culture, and the lively nightlife québécoise of Quebec City and Montréal were a new and exciting experience.

"Ah! Je t'aime," le vice-président du French Club, Darryl Cullins dit á Mlle. Kostyshak.

"Attention, s'il vous plàit."

"Frére Jacques, Dormez-vous?"

Johnnie Malone, un "bum" qui habite dans la salle 106.

"Voulez-vous étudier avec moi, ce soir?" David Jackson demande á Patti Davis.

It's a small world after all

Ms. Barone is "On Top of The World" when she's teaching Spanish.

Heidi hopes the photographer didn't hear what Doug told her.

In her ninth smash year, live on stage, Rose Barone showed students how Spanish is practical in today's society. She stressed the importance of Spanish-speaking nations "All Over the World" and the influence of these countries on America. The Spanish classes joined the French classes in many activities, including the French-Spanish concert and the trip to Qué bec. These classes were also treated to new and more interesting text and a delicious Mexican meal. Spanish students didn't mind being in the minority in the Foreign Language Dept., because they knew that "Mañana" would be good enough for them.

"¿No habla español," replies Michael Butts to Cyrus Gass' complex question.

"Fame, I want to live forever," sings Ms. Barone to her 6th hour class.

This class shows SMR how to "Get Down" in Spanish.

"Some day we'll be together"

Mrs. Kennon Griffing has emerged as the English department head this year, in addition to being an NHS moderator. The English department teaches communications, speech, mass media, drama, creative writing, photography and also literary analysis. Mrs. Griffing teaches Humanities and Todays Literature to seniors. And then there is Miss Karen Korpi who teaches Literary Genres, Yearbook, Junior English, and also College Writing. She also directed the play for the last two years. Miss Rose Barone should be known by everyone for teaching Spanish and Freshman English. In addition, she was the sophomore moderator. Mr. Jack Converse teaches Junior English, Sophomore Honors English, Photography, and also takes pictures for publicity. He is well known by a vast majority of SMR students. Mrs. Pat Faletti teaches Freshman and Sophomore English, and is also a J.V. cheerleader moderator, as well as the advisor of the newspaper staff. Teaching freshman and sophomores is a very hard job, because everyone knows that the Freshman are "Movin on up to the big time." The basic skills of reading, writing, listening and speaking are constantly being stressed to students by members of the English department staff. Many of the A.P. English students revealed that the amount of homework they receive means staying up all night, and to do the homework kept them working day and night. It can be safely said that the English students have found that reading for enjoyment is both a worthwhile pastime and an important educational asset. One can always tell a student who has graduated from St. Mary's of Redford, because they are literate and articulate.

"Tut, Tut, Tut," Words to live by.

Would anybody like to know the recipe to Southern Fried chicken?

Who knows what today's lesson will be?

There's no business like English business.

"Don't say goodnight"

"Sometimes I wonder, who I am, where I've been, do I fit in."

Having fun in A. P., that's incredible.

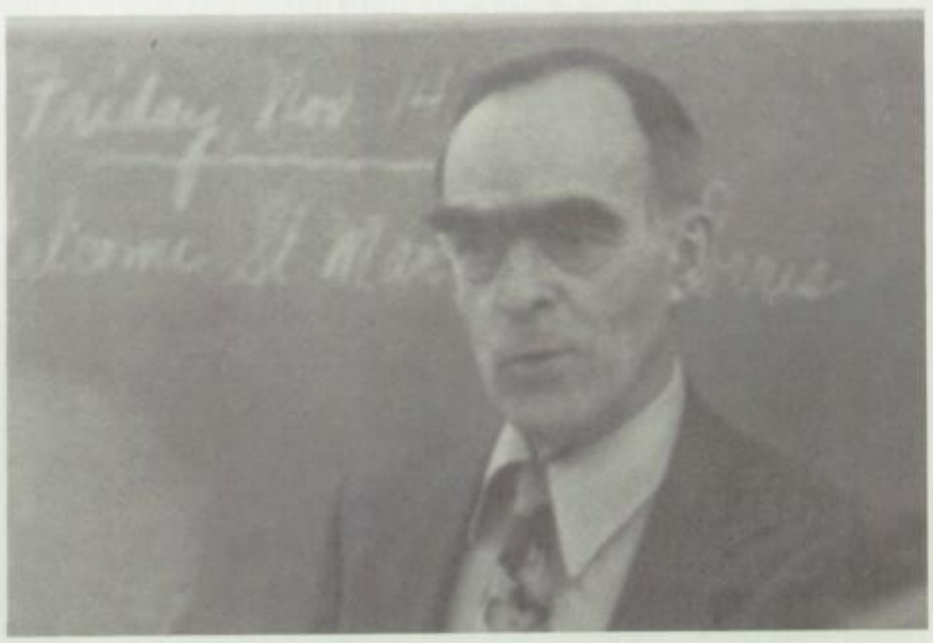
Journey to the center of the mind

During the times of computers and electronic gizmos, we find ourselves lost in the world around us. Mrs. Debbie Haddad, second year veteran, along with newcomers Mr. Joseph Diroff and Ms. Merri Williams helped to show students the light throughout the 1980-81 space-age science year. These teachers took the students through another dimension; a look beyond our ordinary lives into the twilight zone. From micro-organists to the atom bomb, these students experienced a Journey To The Center of The Mind!!!

Penola Garvin seems to be the only one interested in her work.

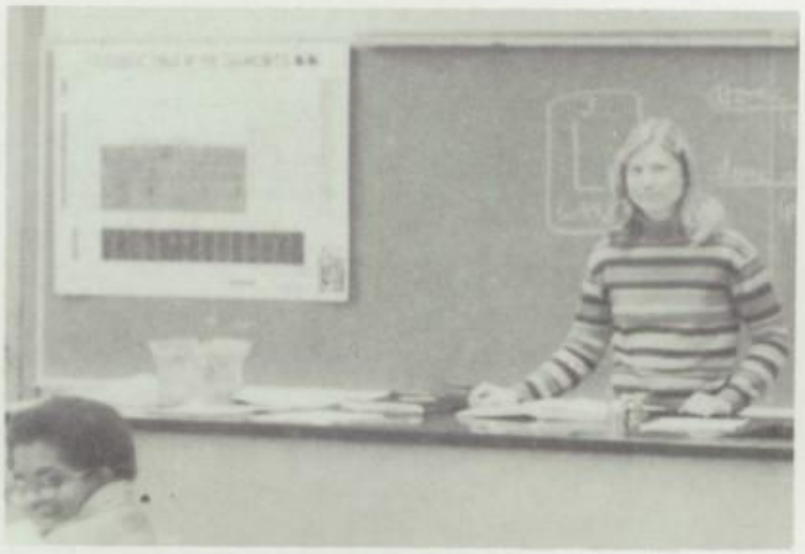
"The usual lecture," think these young scientists.

Mr. Diroff does the Mexican Trash Can Dance, Ole!!!

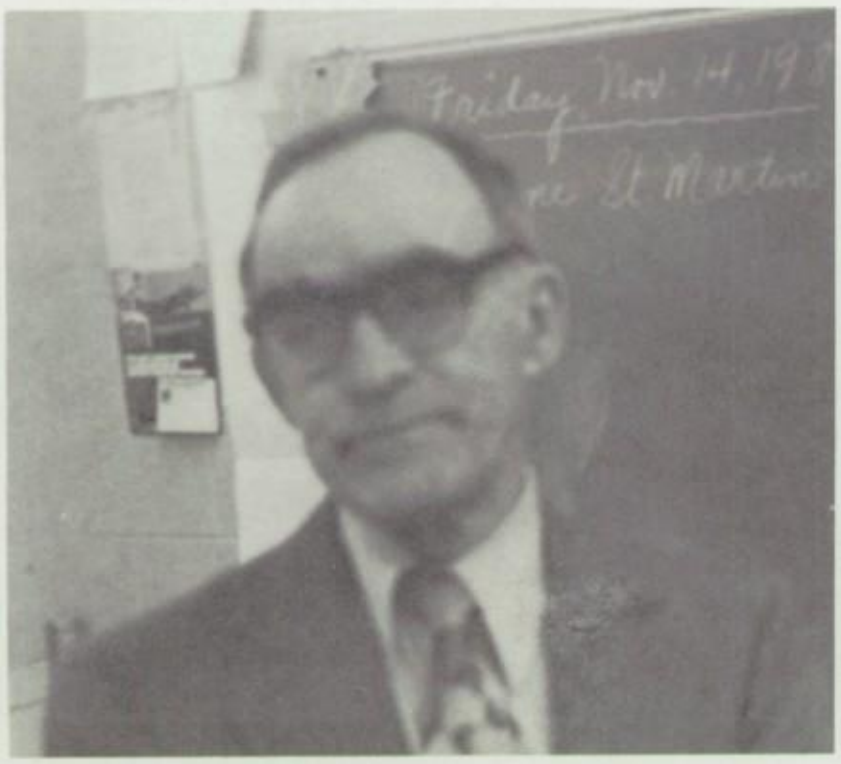


Mr, "Day Tripper" Diroff doesn't realize he's in the middle of class.

Mrs. Haddad poses with her favorite students as Chris Duncan looks on in a rather odd way.



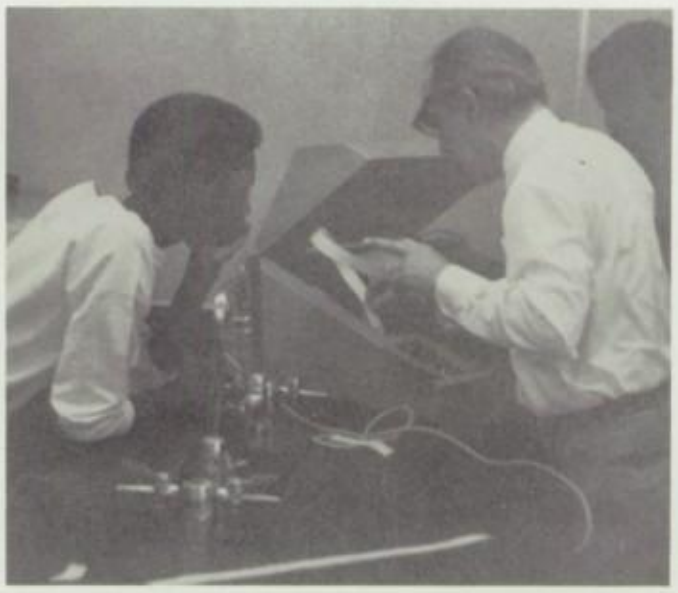
Ms. Williams smiles pretty for her mug.



Boy, do I hate Mondays!!!

Everybody's a comedian as these sophomores demonstrate.

Mrs. Haddad appears to be a little tipsy on this dreary Monday morning.

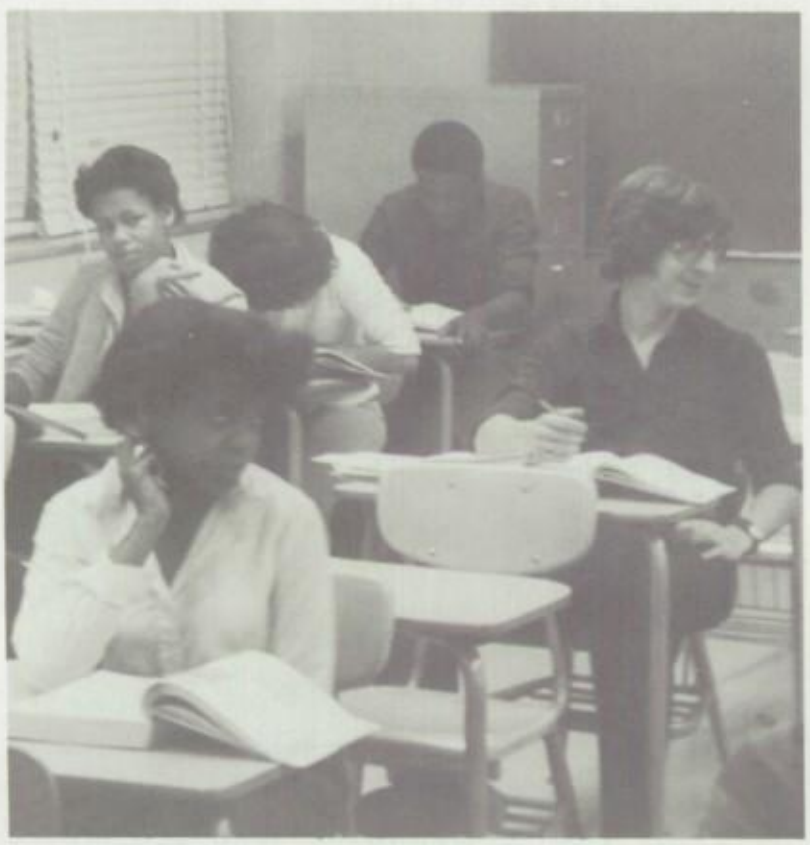


"You broke the machine again!" Mr. Diroff says calmly.

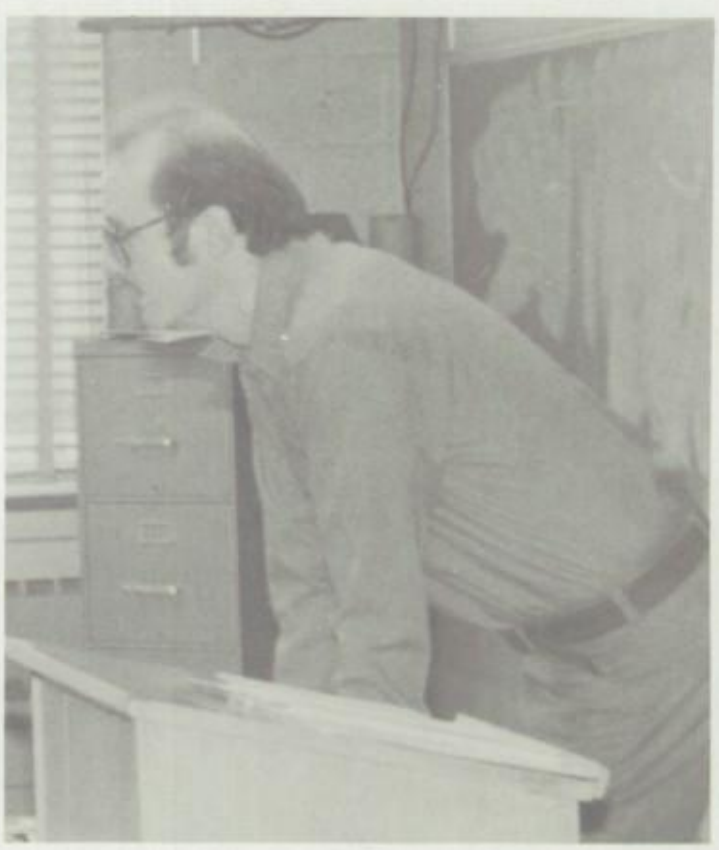
Dazed and confused

Throughout this hectic school year SMR's Math staff proved that this course is as necessary as any other. Headed by Mrs. Barbara List, third year veteran, Mr. Mike Brown, and newcomer Mrs. Debbie Fenske helped those who were just meeting the Math requirements as well as the students who wished to pursue a career in such. From General Math to complicated classes such as Calculus and Computer all the students agree that besides helping them prepare for the future, Math left them: "DAZED AND CONFUSED"

One more crack like that Mr. Murphy and you get to model my dunce cap!

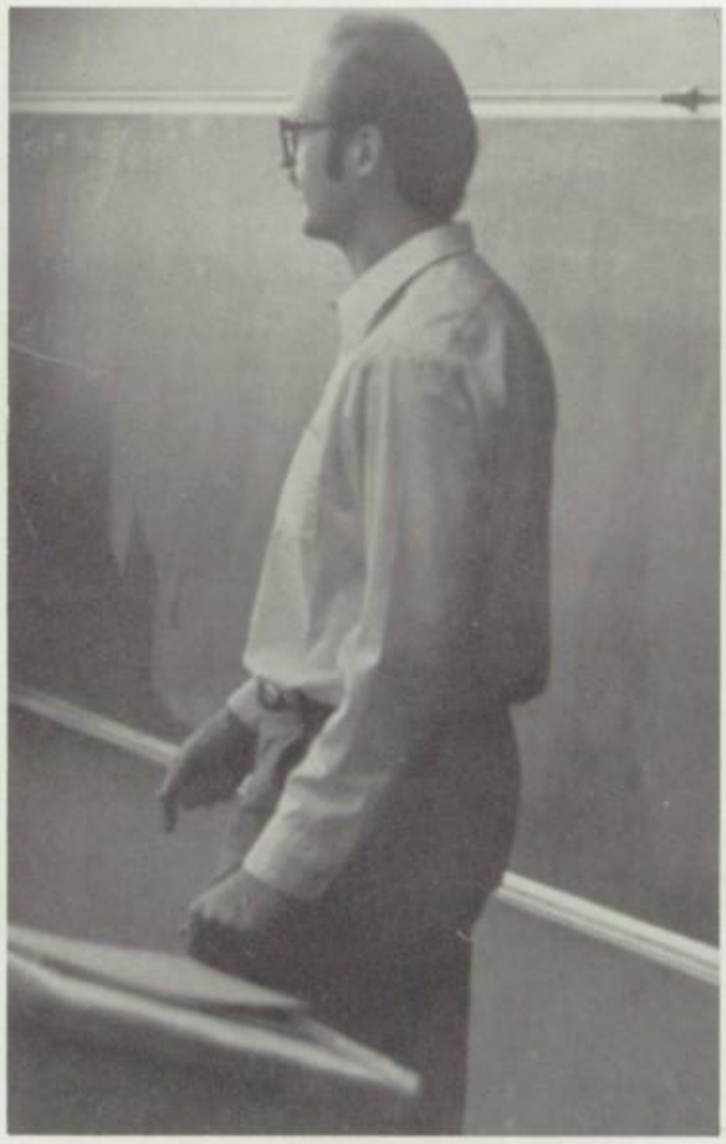


"Ain't No Cure For The Summertime Blues"



What do you mean I'm wrong?

I've got it all here in my head, nothing more needs to be said.



Mr. Brown, taking a breather, goes into the twilight zone.

Not aware of anyone but the photographer . . .

This student seems to be "Space Truckin'"

Takin' care of business

As the new school year approached, many students elected to take a business class with the thought of getting an easy grade. To the surprise of everyone, the business department was singing a different tune.

Upgrading the image of the business department by making it a serious subject matter was a goal accomplished. The program gave the students skills that will help them function as good producers and consumers in the market place.

Miss Barbara Wilke, a native Detroiter, and product of Benedictine High School attended Western Michigan University. She started off as a student teacher at SMR and has continued here for the past three years.

Mrs. Davis taught four clerical business classes while Miss Wilke concentrated on theory classes.

In the four years Mrs. Aimée Davis has taught at SMR, a noticeable change was that fewer students were choosing to take clerical studies. As a result of this, some classes were dropped.

A future goal set for the business department is to make Consumer Economics mandatory. It is vital that the students learn about the "real world" in order to handle it.

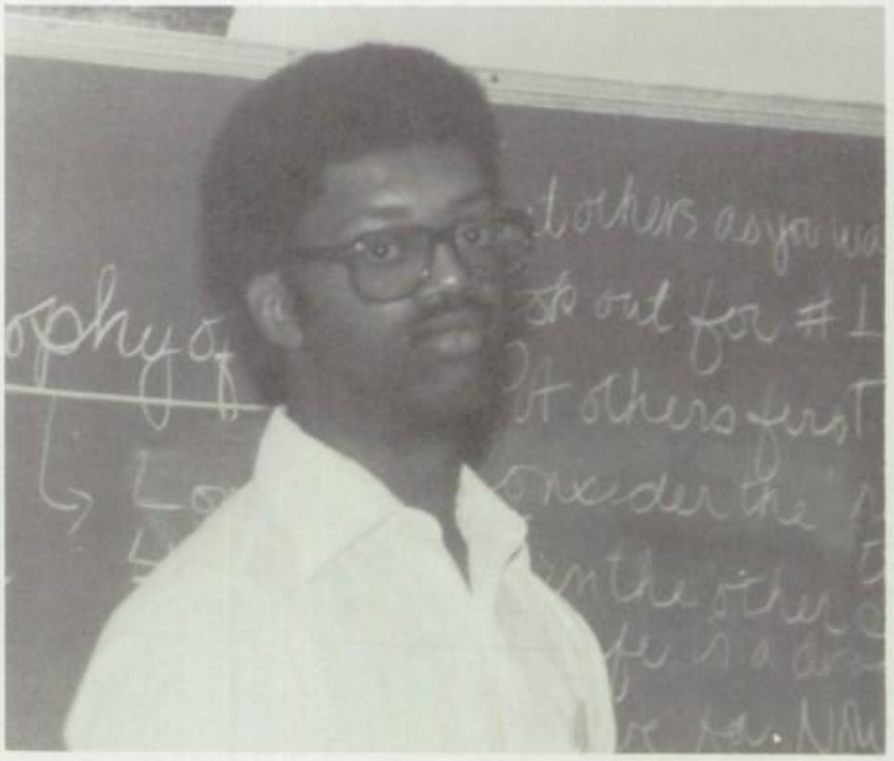
Jesus is just alright with me

This years Theology Department was really on the move. With some promising, new faces and some golden oldies, the department made alot of changes. Freshmen and Sophomore Theology focused in on personality, Old Testament, morality, and principles. Juniors took courses in human sexuality and the New Testament. Seniors had choices of church history, marriage, death and dying, or religions of the world.

Leading the charts was Mrs. Katie Devaney with newcomers Ms. Pat Taylor and Mrs. Rosemary Gass. Helping out in the background was Mrs. Elaine O'Neill. These teachers not only helped us develop our religious awareness but also helped us learn alot about ourselves.

Now we know where Mrs. Devaney disappears to.

"Your dog ate your homework?" asks Mrs. Gass.

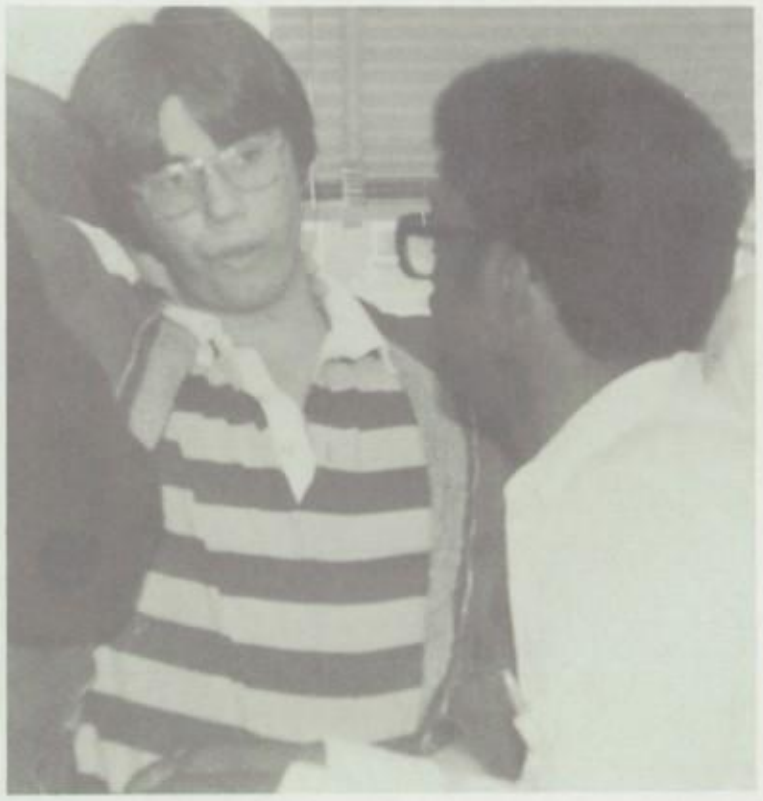


A thoughtful moment for Father Ron.

Ms. Taylor listens attentively as Deidre Wells presents her views to the students.

Our "fearless leader": always ready to help you.

Yes, teaching can be fun, as Mrs. Gass finds out.



Teaching is only part of Fr. Ron's daily routine. Here we see him talking with Chris Duncan.

Makin' it

The Art Department, headed by Sister Janet Wright, completed a nine month engagement at SMR. Many of the old favorities, including Basic Art, Advanced Art, Pottery I and II, Painting I and II, and Basic Metals were featured. In this past year, however, there was the addition of Design. Students from the class went solo, and under the supervision of Sr. Janet, produced the colorful "new look" of the Commons Room. The murals turned out better than anyone had expected.

Along with talent one needs equipment to help him along. The addition of the electric potters wheel and the new exhaust system helped to provide a more condusive atmosphere.

Behind the scenes, and in the studio, is the multitalented Sr. Janet. This very accomplished artist has studied at Sienna College in Adrian, Marygrove College and Wayne State University. Every year her real happiness has been looking forward to her students accomplishments. SMR's talent is as good as any she's seen. Along with running the Art Department single-handedly, Sr. Janet is also one of the two Senior moderators, moderator of the bowling team, and a member of the Archidocesan Art Teachers Association.

Her students consistently produce artistic creations. One can sometimes wonder how this is accomplished. Her philosophy is that art is an extremely important, vitalizing, and humanizing force in our country. Man is reflected by his art and writings and it is woven into his history. One can only try to create art to the best of his ability, so that it may in turn be woven into the future generations.

Hold the line

The head of the Drafting department, Mr. Danilo Milich, has been here for three years, and every year things change a little bit for him. This year Drafting got a new blue print machine which made things much easier. Also, Mr. Milich noticed that the new students moved along faster than they did before.

Many students may be thinking, "What would I ever need drafting for?" Well, everything that is made has to have a plan, and that is exactly what drafting does; it plans the size and exact shape so that different things can be made. The drafting class at St. Mary's provides a good start for anyone who wants to go on and major in engineering. The class has a very relaxed atmosphere where students sit down, do the work, and not always listen to lectures. So try it. Who knows? You might even like it.

"I'm done Mr. Milich . . . finally."

Yvette Kelly proves that girls can do just as good as boys in drafting.

When Mr. Milich gets mad he often resorts to growling at his drafting class.

Chris Douglas finds it very hard to start a new drawing.

"I'd like to teach the world to sing" (or sew)

That's just about what Mrs. Peponis and Sr. Mary Justus are saying. Singing and sewing are important even for regular people. Some students may never know what talents they have unless they try at least one of these two electives. Besides, it's always nice to know what clothes to buy and what kind of voices people have.

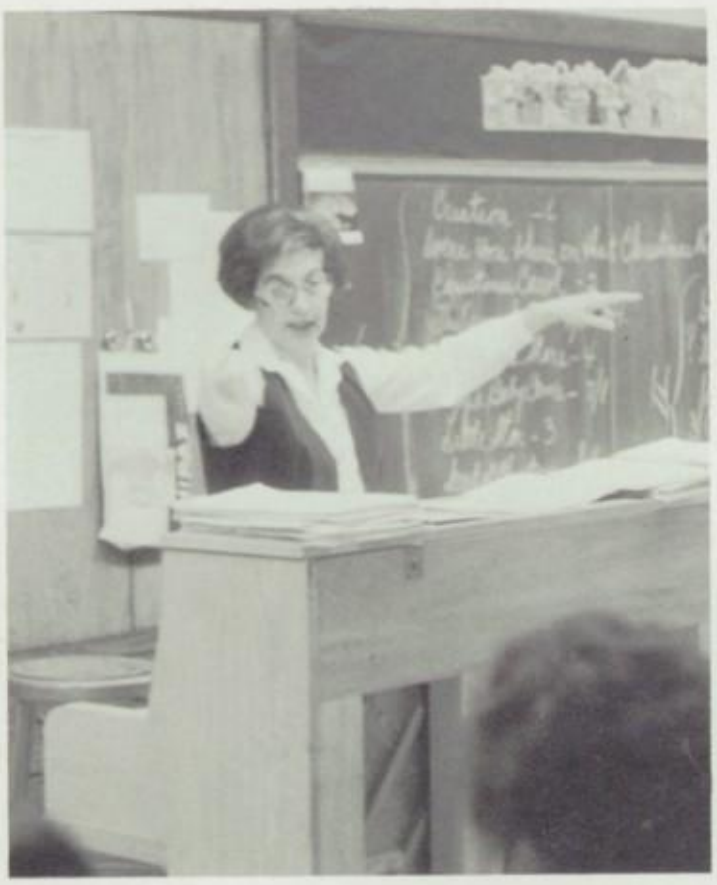
Mrs. Peponis, our very experienced choral teacher, has been here for many years and always devotes her time to our budding stars. As usual the Christmas and Spring programs went very well this year. Seeing the appreciation of parents and students during these programs is one of the things Mrs. Peponis enjoys most about the class.

In addition to having a sewing class, there is also a creative stitchery class where students can use their imagination as much as they want. So with the help of new and better machines, films, but especially Sr. Mary Justus' time, these students learned some of the basics of survival.

Christie Clay knows she can count on Sr. Mary Justus to help.

"Sr. Mary Justus ... what do I do now?

"Yes Mrs. Peponis, we're listening."



Mrs. Peponis, our loyal choral teacher, directs her students to stardom.

The times they are a-changin'

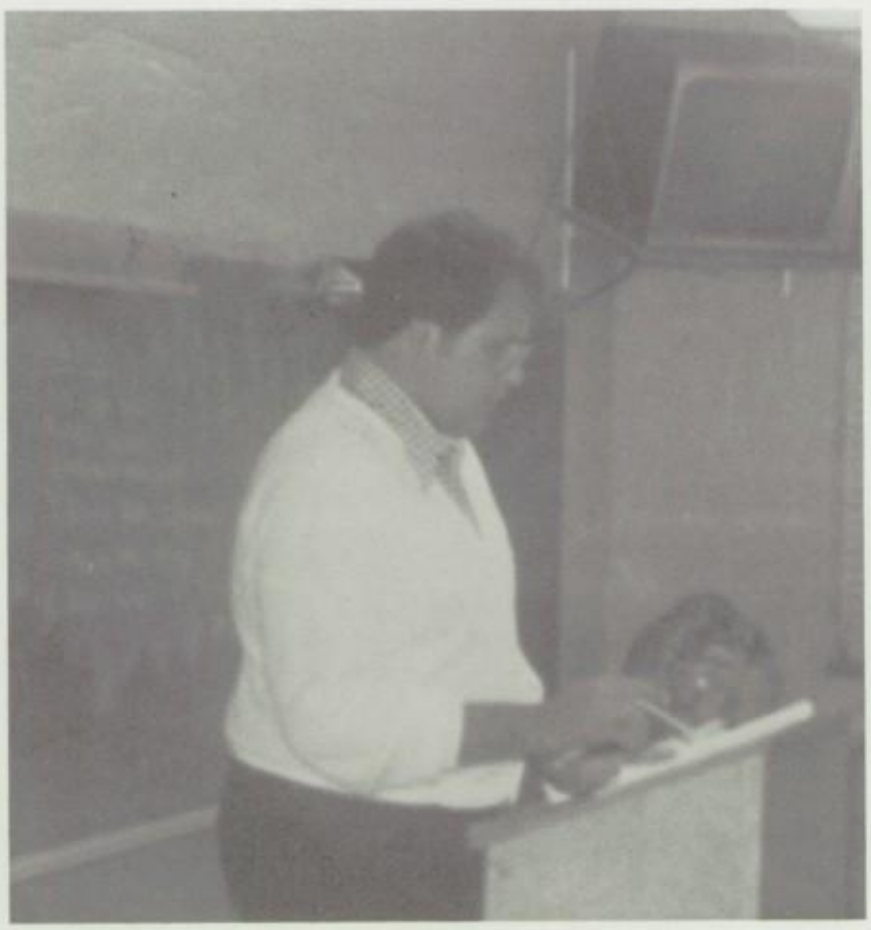
The times were a-changin' at St. Marys this year. The social studies department dropped 2 teachers and added one. Returning were Mr. Keith Froelich, who taught U.S. History and sociology, and Mr. Danilo Milich, who taught world history and government. Mr. Steven Linn was our not-so-new teacher who returned to St. Marys after a one year absence, and taught world history, psychology, and government. These 3 men taught us about the past, while helping us with the future.

Mr. Linn takes time out to help junior Anita Stark with a problem.

Don't tell me those students stole the tests again!

Hey, give me back my book!

Mr. Linn attempts to silence his students.

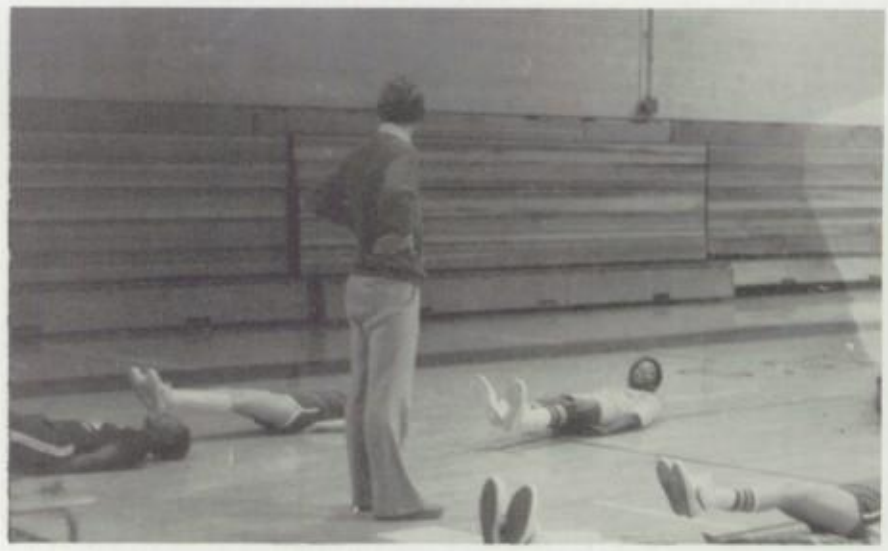


Where's Ed Theile? Skipping again?

Has Mr. Milich found Janet Sall's cheat notes?

Fun, fun, fun

The physical education and health department was handled by three year veteran Nancy Hieber and two year veteran Scott Hammond. These two teachers took on the responsibility of teaching two different classes and came through with flying colors. Both of these teachers were always willing to help any student that asked for it and they always made class FUN, FUN, FUN.



Mr. Hammond inspects his "troops."

This gym class goes through some strenuous exercises.

"Whew!" Who has b.o.?"

She shoots . . . she scores.

"I'm so confused!" thinks Ms. Hieber.

"Ultimate Masterpiece"

Once again the Abacus staff has been producing a top quality newspaper. "Ain't no Mountain High Enough," to stop the Abacus staff from meeting each deadline. Every month the staff covered the "Main Events" from sports to Homecoming, and all the way through Graduation.

Mrs. Faletti returned to supervise another successful Abacus paper. The competent staff consists of 2 co-editors, Brian Lopus and Gary F. Bess, and fourteen super-sleuth reporters. St. Mary's appreciates your great efforts.

Ultimate masterpiece

Once again the Yearbook staff "got down and boogied" to meet their deadlines. The theme they chose, "Songs," was worked into their headlines and body copy.

This years staff of 22 students was guided by Ms. Karen Korpi, editor Anne Lemen, assistant editor Brenda Murphy, treasurer Donna Davis, and photographer Greg Quinn.

Other requirements were to sell advertisements, patron and sponsor ads, and yearbooks. This year a contest was held for cash prizes of fifty and twenty-five dollars as incentive to buy yearbooks.

This years Homecoming Dance was a huge success due to the hard work and skillful planning of the National Honor Society. The evening had an exciting air to it as the tastefully dressed couples glided about the dance floor in a style that would put Studio 54 and Uncle Sam's to shame.

The highlight of the evening came when the Queen of the dance Michelle Horn was crowned and her court, consisting of Anne Lemen, Penola Garvin, Brenda Murphy and Lori Fletcher, was presented.

Remarks about the Homecoming Dance by the couples who attended can be summed up by saying everyone had a good time with their "Angels".

This year the National Honor Society was headed by Michael Castle. The Vice-President was Patty DeBeliso, Anne Lemen was Secretary and Donna Davis was the treasurer. Mrs. List and Mrs. Griffing were the moderators who helped the students "Ease on Down the Road" when important matters were pressing.

The N.H.S. members were responsible for many exciting dances, successful bake sales and for entertaining many elderly people at a nearby old folks home. All this was accomplished by the members along with other individual community services they performed, while still maintaining the high grade point average that is a requirement for membership.

The Stars Are Born

Do you need a bib when you eat? Or can you say the alphabet in burps? Well, then you would have been perfect for this years play. The play, directed by Miss Karen Korpi, was patterned after her experience at the schools she went to and this school.

It is about a high school in the mid-west that is literally falling apart. But with the determination of a few students the school gets together a Variety show to get unity in the school.

Mrs. Rosemary Gass, and Sr. Janet, were in charge of set and stage. Miss Korpi, assisted by Mrs. Gass, decided to write the play because most high school plays that are cheap to produce are boring and poorly written.

Last years play was very successful, and that was the reason for this years turn out. What Miss Korpi and Mrs. Gass enjoy most about working on plays is seeing the finished product on stage.

The 12 year Club is composed of 12 students that have had the extreme pleasure of being at S.M.R. for 12 years. They are: Janet Collins, Phillip Cotter, Patti DeBeliso, Jean Distlerath, Bruce Eck, Matt Emery, Margaret Hunter, Dave Kerwin, Anne Lemen, Sue Lowry, Jim Sullivan, and Paul Zwicker.

It all started with Sr. Maxine, moved to Sr. Joan, and ended with Brother Foster, with them all providing loving and guiding hands. We the 12 year club would like to say thank you to all the people who made our stay at S.M.R. happy and fruitful.

"We don't need no education" feels Paul Zwicker.

Another one bites the dust

"Another One Bites the Dust" was the theme song for this years Varsity Football team. As the season kicked off, it seemed that the Rustic's theme was coming true. But as it progressed, S.M.R. suffered crucial losses in the offensive line which affected the team's ability to move the ball. Even though they had many set backs, the varsity players and their equally determined coaching staff, headed by Coach Keith Frolich, proved that winning wasn't everything. This was evident in their show of undying spirit.

Several of these players proved not only that they are spirited but also talented. Seven Senior members of the team — Co-captain Vernon Johnson, Dwayne Scott, Gary Bess, Terry Thomas, John Bridgewater, and Tony Jemison — were honored with awards.

The Rustics finished their season with a 4-5 overall record, two of these wins being league games. Though the Rustics will be losing many key players, next years Seniors and Juniors are ready to show their athletic abilities.

Varsity boys are tougher than a 'Brickhouse'

This year's Varsity Basketball Team came face to face with some of the toughest teams in the state, including East Catholic and Catholic Central. None the less, the Rustics came out on top with a 9-1 league record. Much of this is due to the persistent efforts of Coach Scott Hammond and his ardent coaching staff.

Coach Hammond felt this years team has a great deal of potential to do well in the State Tourney. Much of this potential came from the teams leading performers Eric Pryor, Kevin Scott, and Charles Crump. Even though S.M.R. will be losing seven senior members, the returning team is confident that the future will be filled with many victories.

Short people

The 1980 Girl's Varsity Basketball Team was short in height, the tallest member only being 5'8. The team, on an average, was the shortest in the league, while other teams had girls up to 6'1. Further, players on the Rustic team were in and out all season with various physical problems. Despite the shortness in height and shortcomings of the team, the girls were tall in spirit and determination. Under the coaching of Miss Nancy Hieber, the team's season had its share of wins, and no game was lost without a tall effort.

"Pop Whatcha Got"

The Varsity Volleyball team was on the move and "Staying Alive" as they achieved an excellent seasonal record. This years team consisted of 10 young ladies, who gave it their best shot to be on top. The co-captains were Sue Lowry and Cathy Hool. The coaches were Sr. Pat and Mary Jo Evans. During each practice the girls did their best to improve on those things that needed work. Each girl showed determination to succeed and make it. As their season came to a swift close, they realized it took "More Bounce to the Ounce" to be "The Greatest."

"We don't mean to brag, we don't mean to boast, but our name is known from coast to coast . . . . " It's none other than the talented SMR Varsity cheerleading squad. This years Varsity cheerleaders consisted of four seniors and five juniors. The seniors were Lisa Tarver (capt.), Brenda Murphy, Michelle Horne and Lynn Morris. The juniors were Angela Drake (co. capt.), Deirdré Wells, Margaret Rellias, Kay Long and Regina Edmunds (sub.). The cheerleaders began the year off right as they brought in the new school year with all the skills and awards they received from camp. The football season went by fast as the girls were "Getting Down" showing their sensational blue and white spirit. They "Attacked from the Back" during the basketball season and each game was an "Overnight Sensation." The 1980-81 Varsity squad will be remembered, not only for their pretty faces and cute smiles, but for that everlasting spirit that was much too much!!

Nothing is easy

This year's varsity golf team was under the direction of a new coach, Mr. Tom Brown. Although the team didn't win any matches they never gave up hope. All the team members were committed and enthusiastic about playing. Two members of the team, Mike Corby and Chris Duncan, also participated in the Catholic League Championship, and four members were sent to State Regionals.

Give it all you've got

The people on the varsity cross-country team this year were very proud of themselves, and had good reason to be. Many people received medals and new school records were set by both girls and boys. In addition this was the first year that the cross-country team at SMR got a trophy, and Ron Simpson Qualified to go to the State Finals.

Those medals and records were well deserved. An average practice consisted of seven miles. The meets were run in fields, hills and all, on dirt paths, and were three miles long.

The team was more experienced this year and all but one member will be returning, so there is potential for next year too.

Good job runners!

Killing Them Softly

Even though the season record might not show it, this year's J.V. football team, coached by Tom Carr, had a lot of talent. They were a very small and inexperienced team, but they worked hard and showed great determination. Even when the team was losing, they still had spirit, and that helped a lot.

Next year's varsity should get some help from some of these fine individuals. A few of them are, John Stephenson (lineman), David Hughes (lineman), and Rickey Lester (tailback and wide receiver).

J.V. Basketball - Too Hot

Even though the boys J.V. basketball team didn't win many games, they always stuck together. The team had determination which explains why their games were so close.

This was Tony Taylor's first year coaching a boys basketball team, and he felt that the team accomplished the goals he set for them.

Coach Taylor said that the team has good potential for next year's J.V. and varsity. Some of the leading performers were Kevin Robinson, Mark Talley, James Williamson, and Dennis Brown.

Kevin Robinson shows that the J.V. team stuck together by congratulating one of his team members.

J.V. "Whip" it

The 1980 Girl's J.V. Basketball team was coached by Anthony Taylor. The young team had two juniors, five sophomores, and eight freshmen. The captain of the J.V. Whip was Karen Reed, assisted by Carla Ivey and Barb Sullivan. The girls had a lot of hustle and spirit, and this attributed to their victories. They played many close games, but the competition was rough, which accounted for their losses.

"Shake Your Groove Thang" While the J.V. Cheerleaders "Move On Up To The Big Time"

"Freshman, Freshman, don't be shy, stand and give your battle cry!", say the junior varsity cheerleaders" after being instructed by Mrs. Faletti, their advisor.

The cheerleaders are: Janet Burns, Kim Easley, Marcia Melton, Marjorie Staten, Heidi Smith, Michelle Hall and Tracey Thorton. The two substitutes are: Zina Jackson and Kim Moore. Each of these young ladies deserves alot of recognition, because without them, where would the team be?

We're bad we know it, and we've got the team to show it.

"More Bounce To The Ounce"

The Freshman basketball team came on strong and at every game they gave they're best. Even though sometimes the going got tough, and their opponents were playing quite rough, they never gave up. They got their determination from, Mr. Tom Carl, their coach.

No matter how far behind or ahead they were in the game, they showed their team spirit and intelligence. They always congratulated their opponent, whether they won or lost. Also they were energetic and sometimes it was hard and tiresome to practice everyday and into the night. But, the great performance they gave, made it all worth while.

"Celebrate"
"Good times come on"

This years pon-pom squad really "hung out" as they moved on up to the "big time." The squad consisted of thirteen young ladies and among them were seven seniors: Nina Campbell, Donna Davis, Laurie Fletcher, Penola Garvin, Marilyn Yvette Hall, Valarie Reed and Caroline White.

The six juniors are: Patti Davis, Stacey Hickman, Shantella Huddleston, LaShawn Small, Anita Starks, and Tamara Williams. The squad performed at every home game and their last routine was done with flashlights, which was a "sweet sensation".

The squads moderator, Mrs. Fenske, deserves a lot of recognition because of her long hours afterschool with the squad. Therefore, the squad would like to say thank-you for your patience.

Anyone who has seen the squad perform knows why their nickname is perfection, because they always performed perfectly.

Top row: Marilyn Yvette Hall, Valarie Reed, Anita Starks,Donna Davis. Middle row; Stacey Hickman, LaShawn Small, Laurie Fletcher, Caroline White. Bottom row; Nina Campbell, Patti Davis, Shantella Huddleston, Penola Garvin, Tamara Williams.

"The Second Time Around"

St. Mary's intramural baskeball teams have much to be said for them. There are two teams made up of lower and upper classmen.

Each and every year many of S.M.R.'s students look forward to trying out for the team. Many of the players are great athletes and deserve a lot of praise.

If you have never seen a team perform miracles then you haven't seen St. Mary's intramural team play.

They don't know the meaning of the word lose. The activity is headed by Mr. Milich, who spends a lot of time with each and every player to make sure they are polished.

Look! Now team,now what am I supposed to do?

I love to put my best effort into every game.

Let's Get Serious!"

There was no time to act a clown and play around, but time for the Freshman class to get serious. As they began their first year in high school, they looked forward to the years ahead. The started out with a big bang by electing their officers (from left to right) Tracey Maxwell, Adrian Lawrence, Adrienne Archie and Sue Debeliso. With "More Bounce to the Ounce," their moderators Nancy Hieber and Scott Hammond made it possible for the Class of 84 to be an overnight sensation. The Freshman "Stomped" all night during the Homecoming celebration with their skit "Popeye." The Class was "Busting Out" during the second semester when they sold candy canes during the Christmas Season. The sale was on "Fire" as their profits doubled each day. The 1981 year came quickly and the Freshman wasted no time getting to Cedar Point for their class trip.

When the year came to a close, the entire freshman class felt proud of its achievements. The Freshman will be remembered as the ideal in school spirit and pep.

Sweet, sweet, 83 sweet, sweet, 83 .... Hey! that sounds like the Sophomores at the rockin pep rallies of SMR. As the sophomores began there second year they were "Sizzlin Hot" with class officers (upper right corner L-R) John Emerson (vice pres.), Marcia Melton (sec.), Kimberly Easley (treas.), Ingrid Davis (pres.), (lower right corner L-R) advisory board members Wendy Dusbury, Marjorie Staten, Jane Hart, Mary Hool and the two moderators (L-R) Ms. Williams and Ms. Barone. Fund raisers of the year started with the carnations sold for Sweetest Day and it was a "Sweet Sensation" when the Sophomores followed it with the Halloween trick or treat candy sales. The bake sale in November turned out to be a "Hot Number" with cakes, cookies, and pies, etc. The SMR student body was "TKO" (Technically Knocked Out). "I've Got Love On My Mind" must have been the thought of SMR students as they helped the sophomores gross over $100 with the Valentine candy sale. "With Pleasure" the sophomores worked on the 1981 paper drive which was "Dynamite." However, when the sophomores left SMR for summer vacation, their only words were, "I Just Got To Be Free!"

"Ain't No Stopping Us Now"

The junior class was very active this year. Headed by president Deidre Wells, vice president Anita Starks, treasurer Karen Castle, secretary Michon Rozier, and the advisory board which included Carol Evans, Jenny Black, and Kim Cozy, the junior class worked long and hard to earn money. They sold chocolate bars, baked goods and put on film nights at the school. They also successfully held the second annual "Sweet Blue and White Disco" It raised the money to put on one of the best proms St. Mary's has seen in a long time.

The junior moderators, Ms. Pat Taylor and Stephan Linn, guided and helped the junior class through their successful year.

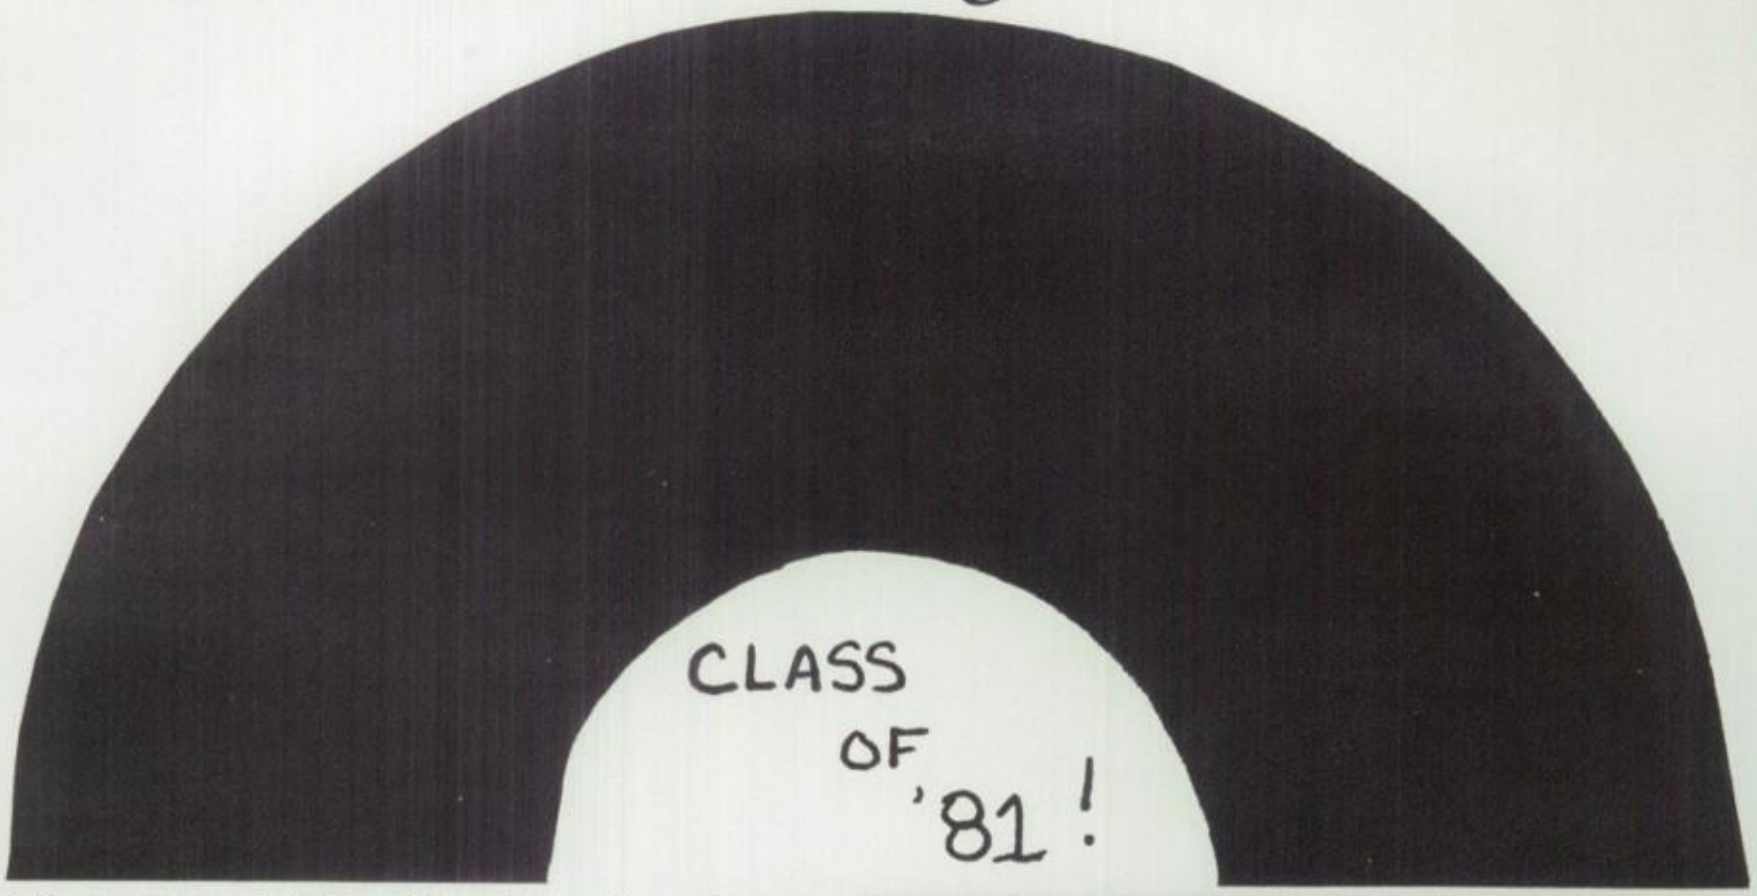
SENIOR'S OF '31

"I'm Coming Out!"



When it comes to "Heros," you're speaking of none other than the Seniors of 1981!! Their last year at SMR was a "Master Blaster," full of happiness, sadness and "Memories." The Class of 81 was "Reunited" with their new class officers, which included the president, Penola Garvin, vice president, Michelle Horne, secretary, Brenda Murphy, and treasurer, Jim Murphy. The Advisory Board consisted of Anne Lemen, Cheryl Austin, Tony Jemison, Donna Davis, Lisa Tarver and Michelle Malden. They were greatly helped by moderators Barbara Wilke and Sr. Janet. Together these ten young men and women made this year a "Lovely One." They began the year off with their homecoming skit "Dick Tracey." With the help of the entire class they received first place in both the skit and hall decorations. The Seniors wanted to "Have Fun" this Halloween so they sponsored a Masquerade Dance with movies and prizes. Senior week was "Inseparable" with the spirit of 81 all around the SMR halls. The Seniors "Tried to Walk a Mile" as they travelled to Atlanta, Ga., Tampa and Orlando, Fla., for their Senior trip. They returned and brought back "Good Times." The Senior breakfast was like "Heartbreak Hotel," as students got together and remembered their past. On graduation, there were "Stars in their Eyes," when they walked down the aisle side by side "Holding On."

Brenda Murphy
"Yearbook Assistant Editor"

It has been a great pleasure to attend SMR and before leaving I have a few things to say. To my friends I left behind, remember that motivation leads to success, and it's the quality not the quantity that you get out of an education. To my fellow constituents of 81, wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom; and with all thy getting get understanding.
Thanks to my family and especially to God, for without him nothing is possible.

Congratulations

May there always be work for your hands to do;

May your purse always hold a coin or two;

May the sun always shine on your window pane;

May a rainbow be certain to follow each rain;

May the hand of a friend
always be near you;

May God fill your heart
with gladness to cheer you.

Dear Graduates of 1981:

The world's now awaiting the work of your hands
Whether student or laborer - whatever you plan.
You've something to offer that is uniquely "you,"
So stop - weigh your actions - in whatever you do.
Be yourself. Know your mind. Pray for truth as you go.
And don't allow others to push you to and fro.
You'll be tempted each day to join in with the crowd,
But stand firm in your faith - voice conviction aloud.
Determine right now hopes in you be fulfilled.
Don't be one to tear down - be the one who will build.
Keep to the right course, 'tho reward seems obscure,
For it's work done with honor that alone will endure.
J. E.

God be with you in the future
Fondly,
The Women of the SMR Guild

To our sons and daughters:

We take a great deal of pride in your achievements at St. Mary's. Although you might have mistaken our encouragement for something else on occasion, we are gratified that our support for you has given us such outstanding returns.

Your efforts have not gone unnoticed and we wish to thank you for some memories we shall always cherish.

With love,

YOUR DADS

P.S. Keep up the good work!!!

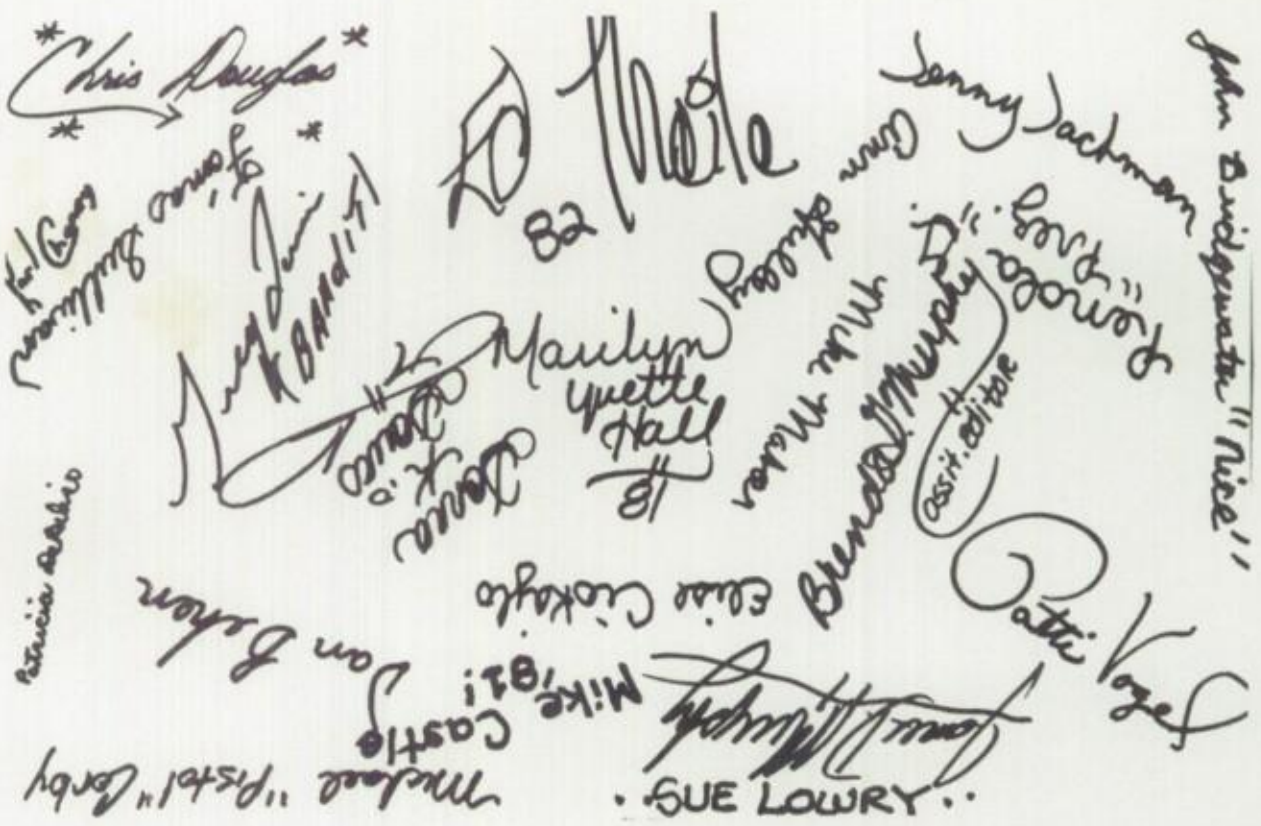
KURTIS BLOW
THE BREAKS
THE BREAKS



This year was, to say the least, quite an experience! We put many long hours into this yearbook. Through all the rushed deadlines, editorial blow-ups, staff cat-naps and blurred photographs-we still had many good times. Seeing the yearbook evolve into an actual creation that was OURS was definitely rewarding. Special thanks go to the staff for putting up with the bad days-I know!!-That was everyday! This book is yours-Good Job!! Thanks to you, Ms. Korpi. Correcting proofs was fun! Thank you, Mr. Converse for the pictures you took, especially our team photo! To all of you, I hope that many years from now, when you look back at this book, you'll remember nothing but the good times. Keep on swaying' to the music!

With love and wishes for a bright future,

Anne C. Lemen
